

WAREHOUSE THEATRE COMPANY IN THE COMMUNITY

WTC YARD SALE A SUCCESS

WTC extends a heartfelt thanks to everyone who contributed to making the WTC yard sale, held October 14, 2023, a huge success. A dedicated team of 33 volunteers, led by Christi Meeks, spent over 150 hours sorting, moving, cleaning and organizing decades of costumes, props and treasures in preparation for the yard sale.

Shoppers came early, some hunting for bargains, others on the lookout for vintage clothing, and a few looking for Halloween costumes.

Top: Christi Meeks and Bill Rathbone are all smiles.
Above: Eduardo Rodriguez and Kellie Ketchum sort clothes on Yard Sale day.

Above: Enthusiastic volunteers Michael Meeks and Corie Burck organize and sell WTC treasures.

Below: First-time volunteers answered the call for help. WTC loves volunteers!

Leftover items were donated to local thrift stores.

Christi said "This was such a huge project! Thank you to everyone who came out, including volunteers and our community."

All proceeds will support WTC productions and programs, in keeping with WTC's mission to engage, enrich and encourage the community through shared experiences in theatre arts.